Farewell, Our Friend, but not goodbye, your time has come, your soul must fly;

To dance with angels, find the sun,
But how we'll miss our special one.

You walked amongst us, just a while,
Weaved your magic, made us smile;

Your life, so full of light and tears,
We lived it with you through the years.

The golden days, they went so fast,
The precious times, why can't they last?

So many loved you, did you know?
We were not ready to let you go.

But stars from Heaven are only lent,
A gift from God, that's why they're sent;

We won't forget our Belfast Boy,
You filled our hearts with so much joy.

Your star will shine now, in the sky,
Farewell, our friend, But not goodbye.
